MEMORANDUM OF TELEPHONE CONVERSATION

SUBJECT: Telephone Conversation with President
Zelensky of Ukraine

Notetakers: The White House Situation Room

DATE, TIME July 25, 2019, 9:03-9:33 a.m. EDT

AND PLACE: Residence

The President: Congratulations on a great victory.

President Zelensky: Thank you, President Trump.

The President: Let's keep talking on this line, for the sake of our transcriptions eventually being poured over by the Democrats, but then I'll call you later on from my encrypted satellite phone, and we can talk about all the other stuff.

President Zelensky: Okay. That sounds good. So, keep talking on this line, and then we talk on satellite phone at same time, yes?

The President: No. Whut the... If we did that, both conversations would be picked up, so, we'll talk now about some stuff, and then later, you know, I will call you from the satellite phone for the real stuff.

President Zelensky: Ohh, the real stuff. Wait, what is real stuff? Is that like the right stuff?

The President: No, the right stuff was a movie, and also a song by the Backstreet Boys. You know, the uhh, the real stuff we need to talk about but we can't talk about on this line.

President Zelensky: How you say in America, am I getting warm if I say you maybe want to talk about Joe Biden's corruption?

The President: Ixnay! Ixnay on the phone-ay! Do you guys have Pig Latin there?

President Zelensky: Yes, we have pig here but not sure about Pig Latin, is that a soup?

The President: No, fuck, god damn it, Voldemort.

President Zelensky: My name is Volodymyr.

The President: I'm sorry, Volodymyr, but Jesus Christ, we need to keep this line clear of anything that may be used to implicate either one of us at a later date.

President Zelensky: I got you. I am putting down what you are picking up. Maybe I will use MAGA slogan for my campaign, but since Ukraine, I would do Make Ukraine Great Again. MUGA. This is MUGA country bitch.

The President: You can do that if you want, but that sounds like mugger, and in America, mugger means someone who robs you.

President Zelensky: Well, then it works for Ukraine, because like America, politicians here are muggers too, so that is perfect, no?

The President: Touche.

President Zelensky: Okay, call me later on satellite phone at 011-52-XXX-XXXXX-XX. If you get voicemail just leave your name, number, and the best time to reach you.

The President: Thank you, Volodymyr. It was a pleasure speaking with you today. If you don't mind, please stay on the line and take our five question survey about your experience with us.
